PEACE NEGOTIATIONS.

The developments of the day in the Cuban situation indicate steady progress in the negotiations of this country and Spain looking to the maintenance of peace, for the present at least There is rught and the present at least There is rught and the present at least There is rught and the spain's wish is to secure a ressation of hostilities in Cuba rather than to engage in a war with the United States, and that µ is more than probable that the negotiations between the government of the United States and the Sagusta ministry will take a turn in the inmediate future. The present Spanish ministry has professed a pacific disposition from the beginning, and the indications are strong now that it will wail itself of the good offices of the United States to the fullest extent that ubble opinion in Spain will allow in winging to an end the hostilities in byte.
